

Journal of Eye Movement Research JEMR

The “Journal of Eye Movement Research” (JEMR) is a scientific online journal published by IFeL. The authors can submit articles relating to eye movement and the methods of eye tracking. The articles focus on attention and reading, as well as neurology, ergonomics and other areas of application. Prior to publication, the submitted manuscripts are reviewed by renowned experts in those fields (“peers”).

The magazine is available for free (www.jemr.org) and linked to an open user group (www.eyemovement.org).
